MY DREAM JOB

When we were little kids we used to think about becoming many things like doctor , engineer , actor , scientist ,etc . But as time passed and we grew bigger and started to understand how the outside world works we look back and laugh at those thoughts “Like what was I thinking back then?”.

. A lot of people dream but only a handful of people successfully make their dreams come true or make the effort to make that happen . My dream is to someday become a big photographer and to take it as my job for my living not just like a hobby which my parents consider photography to be . It’s been my dream since one day when I first saw an amazing picture on the internet and I searched up who had clicked it that’s when I found the name Steve McCurry who was ranked as the world’s best photographer then I looked up for more photos and found more amazing photos of nature and animals , then I transformed it as my ambition . I also wanted to travel places and take pictures of places which people can’t go to easily . Now I am taking a class for photography secretly so I can become a professionals . I want to become a photographer for the simple reason that it is the one way to pause a flash in time and capture it for a lifetime of fabulous memories . I do not want to be famous but good enough to have the opportunity to take pictures in the way I would like to . Also to show people a different point of view and help them find a new world in a single photo . I am working hard in fulfilling my dream and I will reach a stage where my parents can be proud of me .
